

Bayanix Ltd awarded British Safety Council International Safety Award

11th March 2020

Bayanix Ltd is presented with International Safety Award for protecting its employees from the risk of injury and ill health at work.

Bayanix has won an International Safety Award from the British Safety Council in recognition of its commitment to keeping its workers and workplaces healthy and safe during the 2019 calendar year.

Now in their 62nd year, the International Safety Awards recognise and celebrate organisations from around the world which have demonstrated to the satisfaction of the scheme's independent judges their commitment to preventing workplace injuries and work-related ill health during the previous calendar year. The awards also recognise organisations that have shown commitment to wellbeing and mental health at work.

Neal Bailey, Bayanix Director, is delighted with this recognition of the company's commitment to the health, safety and wellbeing of its workforce.

"The award celebrates our focus on training, policies and governance, systems and support tools, strengthening supply chain relationships and continual improvement."

International Safety Awards 2020 Winner

Mike Robinson, Chief Executive of the British Safety Council, congratulated Bayanix Ltd on their success in winning an International Safety Award 2020 with a Pass: "The British Safety Council commends Bayanix Ltd on their achievement. The award is in recognition of their commitment and efforts to keep their employees and workplaces free of injury and ill health.

"The vision of the British Safety Council is that no-one should be injured or made ill through work – anywhere in the world. Realising it requires more than legislation; people committed to health and safety, and increasingly also to workplace wellbeing, make it a reality and inspire others to create workplaces that are a key force for good.

"The long list of winners of the International Safety Awards, demonstrates that an increasing number of companies recognise that sensible and proportionate management of health and safety risks is a business enabler, benefiting employees, organisations and society as a whole. By celebrating the achievements of the 509 winners of the 2020 International Safety Awards and 62 years of improving health and safety standards around the world, we encourage other organisations to follow their lead and place employees' health and safety at the heart of their business."

"Our warmest congratulations to Bayanix Ltd. All of those working at Bayanix should be rightly proud of their achievement."

More information on the International Safety Awards can be found at: www.britsafe.org/isa

